

REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

IN PICTURES: Tesla test drive at 252 East 57th

BY REW • AUGUST 23, 2017

252 East 57th Street hosted an event with Tesla where guests were invited to test drive the new Model S and Model X, the fastest accelerating electric 4-door production sedan and SUV on the market. The test drive began in the building's gated porte-cochere and was attended by executives from a number of professional industries.

252 East 57th Street is a 65-story luxury residential tower developed by World Wide Group and Rose Associates. The building's curved-glass silhouette contains homes designed by SOM and Daniel Romualdez with views that stretch from Central Park to the George Washington Bridge. 252 East 57th Street amenities include automated parking, electric charging stations, a 75 ft. swimming pool, custom hydrotherapy circuit spa, and an exclusive 34th Floor Club.

Photos by Shelly Kroeger Photography